

Children's Librarians Roundtable Southeast
Meeting Notes
April 10, 2007

Our meeting of April 10, 2007 at Salem Free Public Library was attended by [deleted for online posting].

We enjoyed strolling around the beautiful sunny new building and Margaret Leary was a great tour guide!

Nadine, Sue and Nancy showed different games they had worked on for the summer.

Nadine contacted The Day for their summer reading articles. They will not be sending the free papers like they did last year, which is sad news, but they will be running the feature. Please send Nadine your summer program schedule, so she can submit it to the powers that be. There is a question about the person in charge this year, but we will hope they get that sorted out and running soon. Nadine's email is: nadine.lipman@gmail.com.

We discussed the Community Foundation grants. There seems to be an agreement among us that it is a lot of work to submit a grant to them, and there are very few results from the hard work. Maybe someone out there has a better track record with them. If so, please let me know! Thanks.

Sad news...Jane Glover, the Children's Department Head at the Groton Public Library, is retiring. Jane has been a stalwart member of the Children's Librarians world for many years and we will miss her! Along with her job, Jennifer Datum's part time position is also opening.

The Nutmeg nominees were very interesting. Everyone did a fantastic job of researching their books. If anyone would like copies of the info, please email and I will C-Car copies to you.

We decided that because of all the work we still need to do on summer reading, we are going to cancel our May meeting. I hope you all have fantastic summers and I will contact you again probably in late August-early Sept. for info on our next meeting.

Don't forget to go visit Otis Library to check out their new building now that it is open to the public!!
